With a text by Elisabeth Fritz
Publication date: 2008

In September 2008 the "Street Art Passage Vienna" was opened on the initiative of quartier21 as a continuation of an already existing series of thematic passageways in the MuseumsQuartier Wien. Beside the permanent design of the passageway by french artist "Invader" this public venue benefits from its alternating program of exhibitions of both international and local street art and graffiti artists plus an accompanying series of publications. The street art magazine Betonblumen, whose issues are designed by the currently exhibiting artists, is available at a vending machine directly on the spot. Signed copies of limited artists' editions of the magazine available.
